Dear Prof Dr Abdallah S. Al-Zoubi,

Thank you for joining the Energy Institute (EI), we are pleased to officially welcome your department as a Learning Affiliate member into our global network. Learning Affiliate status is designed specifically for those organisations developing the energy professionals of the future and is a partnership that highlights your commitment to developing energy knowledge, skills and good practice.

Your membership details

Your Learning Affiliate Membership number is: 0077793

In order to access your online account, simply visit our website and login using the details below:

- Your username is: info@bau.edu.jo
- Your password is: energy123

Once logged in, please do consider changing your password to something more secure.

You have two staff representatives who will both receive free Affiliate membership with the EI, this means they also have access to all of our member benefits.

- Representative One: Professor Dr Abdallah S. Al-Zoubi
- Representative Two: Professor Dr Mohammed Matouq

Both representatives will receive a separate welcome e-mail that contains their login details and information on how they can make the most of their Affiliate membership.

What are the benefits?

Learning Affiliate status connects your students to professionals in the energy sector and gives them a wider perspective - students are provided with additional support throughout their studies, and it sets them on the path to professional qualifications.

Your membership includes:

- Free individual membership for all students within your department (or equivalent)
- Two free EI Affiliate memberships for your staff team
- Specialised career talks delivered by one of our local experts

- Discounted access to EI events and training for your staff
- Use of the specially designed 'Learning Affiliate' logo on your promotional material
- Advertising opportunities in a selection of EI publications
- Eligible to apply for EI accreditation or approval of your programmes
- Bi-annual Learning Affiliate newsletter

For your students

Learning Affiliate status provides the students in your department with access to free Student membership for the duration of their studies, plugging them directly into the sector and providing a range of benefits to support their career development and providing them with a wider perspective.

- Boost your CV - shows employers a commitment to developing their career
- Knowledge resources - covering all areas of energy, including the E-Library which hosts more than 90,000 resources and our Energy Matrix
- Grow your network – opportunities to meet like-minded energy professionals by attending local branch events and YPN meetings. Look out for our conferences, seminars and online webinars too
- Professional development help – advice and support from our team, and the use of the mycareerpath, platform
- Newsletters packed with industry updates and relevant opportunities
- Online access to our monthly magazines (Energy World & Petroleum Review)
- Wellbeing support – access to confidential support including for personal, financial and legal matters from a 24 hour funded helpline

What to do next

- Promotional resource - To help you get started, you will find a couple of promotional resources in your welcome pack, including an email you can send out to students telling them about the EI.
- Request a webinar – We can run webinars for your students to talk about the benefits of signing up for Student membership and what the EI can offer them.
- Book a career talk – Need to find a speaker on a specific energy related topic? We also offer careers talks to coincide with your induction weeks. These talks take around an hour, with a local EI member coming to talk to the students in person or virtually about their own career journey and to give advice about the industry.
